For the first time, we’ve compared all sites on the Heritage at Risk Register – from houses to hillforts – to help us better understand which types of site are most commonly at risk. There are things that make each region special and, once lost, will mean a sense of our region’s character is lost too. Comparing the South West to the national Register shows that 62.2% of all hillforts and 58.7% of all types of cairns are in our region. There are 1,562 assets on the South West 2015 Heritage at Risk Register, making up 28.2% of the national total of 5,534 assets. The Register provides an annual snapshot of historic sites known to be at risk from neglect, decay or inappropriate development. Our local HAR team, led by Ruth Garner, continues to work with owners, funders and other stakeholders to find the right solutions for sites on the Register.

Andrew Vines
Planning Director, South West

The South West has now removed 28% (446) of the entries that were on the 2010 Register, exceeding the national target of 25%. In the last year we have made particularly good progress by removing 213 assets from the 2014 Register.

The South West contains some of England’s most important prehistoric sites and landscapes. This is reflected in the fact that there are 1,163 scheduled monuments on our Register, which represents 43% of the national total. Whilst the South West has well over half the national total of hillforts and cairns at risk, by far the most numerous type of scheduled monument on our Register is barrows. There are 454 of these ancient burial mounds at risk in the South West, 53% of the national total on the Register.

Many of the archaeological sites and standing remains on the Register are not capable of economic use. Some have been at risk for many years. Grant funding often helps to reduce the risks. In the South West, we provided £829k in grants to 34 sites in 2014. This helped remove 21 sites from the Register, including Remains of the Old Church of St Mary Magdalene shown on the cover.

Our relationship with Natural England (NE) is vital in reducing risk in the rural historic environment. Funding from their Environmental Stewardship scheme removed 93 scheduled monuments from the Register in 2014, which is a major achievement.

Despite the significant reduction of archaeology entries this year, additions to the Register outnumber removals for buildings and structures, places of worship, and parks and gardens. The continuing expansion of our understanding of the condition of listed places of worship has contributed 34 additions to the Register this year. As a result many church groups have applied to the Heritage Lottery Fund’s (HLF) Grants for Places of Worship scheme, for which our architects provide technical advice.

During this very successful year, there are many more notable cases than can be described in this brief overview. Historic England shares news like this on our website and on Twitter (@HE_SouthWest). However, we rely on inspirational owners, like those at St Giles House, winners of an Historic England Angel Award in 2015, and close partnerships with a wide range of bodies such as NE, HLF, Architectural Heritage Fund, local authorities, National Parks, Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty, Building Preservation Trusts and local communities, to continue to reduce the risks to the rich and varied historic environment of the South West.

The tower stood ruinous, roofless and covered in ivy for decades. Historic England worked with the owner, Sherborne Castle Estates, offering advice and partial funding towards the cost of substantial wall repairs and re-roofing of the tower. The assembled project team shows the owners, land agent, architect and contractors. The preservation of much of England’s heritage relies on dedicated teams like this.

St Giles House  Wimborne St Giles, Dorset

Background and history

The brick built St Giles House has been the seat of the Earls of Shaftesbury since it was begun by the first Earl in 1651. The house is of considerable architectural interest and has cultural significance through its association with the Shaftesburys as politicians, social reformers and philosophers. Extensive remodelling took place 1740-4 by Henry Flitcroft, incorporating a superb saloon. It was further aggrandised by P C Hardwick in 1854 to give more comfort and expand servant accommodation. The house was abandoned in the 1970s as a family home, and became partly derelict.

2005 the decision was taken to re-inhabit the house, which has led to its repair. The enthusiasm and vision of the present Earl, supported by Historic England, has resulted in a rescue and a restoration that is a model of informed conservation. St Giles House was removed from the Register this year.

What’s the current situation?

The house is now weather tight under a new roof. It is once again a comfortable family home with a grand suite of reception rooms available for events. Some of the house remains to be fully restored, notably the second floor and attics, and the stair between the two. The final phase of restoration has seen the remaining empty quarters conserved in a sound state.

This restoration demonstrates how owners of heritage assets play a pivotal role in saving much loved historic buildings.

Is it at risk?

Background and history
Built around 1880 by Job Gould, the rope walk is still owned by his family. The structure is extremely long at 97 metres, the maximum length of twine spun there. A single continuous tiled roof spans the building, with open sides for twine drying at ground floor level. The first floor is enclosed by lightweight planks and glazing. The building was deliberately sited to slope upwards into the hillside, allowing water to run down through the twine finishing area. This structure is a rare survival of this type of building and of Somerset’s industrial past.

Is it at risk?
It was added to the Heritage at Risk Register this year because the listing was upgraded from Grade II to Grade II*. Ageing and weakness of joints, the collapse of surrounding banks and water running through the building have made it a very fragile structure.

What is the current situation?
Historic England, South Somerset District Council and one of the owners are working on a temporary solution involving propping and tying to support the structure. This should allow time for permanent repair and reuse solutions to be developed.

Historic England Angel Awards
The Historic England Angel Awards were founded in 2011, co-funded by the Andrew Lloyd Webber Foundation. They celebrate local people’s extraordinary efforts to save historic buildings and places. Over the past five years, the Angel Awards have showcased inspirational friends groups, communities, worshippers, owners and craftspeople.

From 2016, we’ll be looking for projects that champion the historic environment in many ways. These could include:

- community action projects
- heritage research, survey or education projects
- heritage professionals
- lifetime achievements
- and of course, rescues of heritage sites

Shortlisted Angels will continue to be put to the vote in the ever-popular People’s Favourite Award.

DESIGNATION
Definition
All the historic environment matters but there are some elements which warrant extra protection through the planning system. These are included in the National Heritage List for England (NHLE), an online searchable database of designated assets. Since 1882, when the first Act protecting ancient monuments and archaeological remains was passed, government has been developing the designation system. Listing, which is applied to buildings, emerged from the post-Blitz 1940s Planning Acts. There are now nearly 400,000 designated assets on the NHLE including listed buildings, scheduled monuments, registered parks and gardens, registered battlefields and protected wreck sites.

Historic England, as the government’s expert adviser, is responsible for making recommendations – but it is still the Secretary of State at the Department for Culture Media and Sport who makes the decisions on whether an asset is designated. Understanding and appreciation develop constantly, which makes keeping the designation base up-to-date a never-ending challenge.

While still responding to threat-driven cases, our approach is now more strategic, based around thematic and area-based projects. Recent developments have seen a greater striving for openness and transparency in the process of designating a site, and better communication of what makes something special.

Alongside the nationally designated assets found on the National Heritage List for England are locally designated assets. Best known are conservation areas, but local authorities can also create lists of locally valued assets. Most archaeological sites of significance are not scheduled, but rely on local identification and management for their protection.

LISTED BUILDINGS
Listing is by far the most commonly encountered type of designation. A listed building (or structure) is one that has been designated as being of special architectural or historic interest. The older and rarer a building is, the more likely it is to be listed. Buildings less than 30 years old are listed only if they are of very high quality and under threat. Listing is mandatory: if special interest is believed to be present, then the Department for Culture Media and Sport has a duty to add the building to the List.

Listed buildings are graded I, II* and II. Grade I buildings are of outstanding interest, and II* are particularly important buildings of more than special interest; together they amount to 8% of all listed buildings. The remaining 92% are of special interest and are listed grade II.

There are over 376,000 listed entries on the NHLE of buildings of special architectural or historic interest. Entries on the statutory list sometimes group together a number of separate buildings: a terrace will be counted as one entry, rather than as separate units. Entries on this Register reflect how buildings are grouped and recorded on the statutory list.

Structures can occasionally be dual designated (both listed as buildings and scheduled as monuments). In such cases, scheduling controls take precedence.

SCHEDULED MONUMENTS
Scheduled monuments include single archaeological sites and complex archaeological landscapes. 19,850 examples have been designated because of their national importance. Scheduled monuments are not graded. They cover human activity from the prehistoric era, such as burial mounds, to 20th century military and industrial remains. For the millennia before written history, archaeology is the only testament to innumerable generations of people of whom there is no other record.

The later 20th century saw unprecedented changes to the landscape. As a result, some types of historic site that once were commonplace began to become rare. Those that survive often represent just small islands of what once characterised broad sweeps of our towns and countryside. Although protected by law, scheduled monuments are still at risk from a wide range of processes and intense pressures outside of the planning system. These include damage from cultivation, forestry and – often most seriously of all – wholly natural processes such as scrub growth, animal burrowing and coastal erosion. Scheduling is discretionary, and many archaeological sites of potential importance are not designated. Instead, they are managed through the planning system and other regimes.

REGISTERED PARKS AND GARDENS
There are 1,635 designed landscapes on the current Historic England Register of Historic Parks and Gardens of Special Historic Interest. These registered landscapes are graded I, II* or II, and include private gardens, public parks and cemeteries, rural parkland and other green spaces. They are valued for their design and cultural importance, and are distinct from natural heritage designations.

Inclusion on the Historic England Register of Historic Parks and Gardens brings no statutory controls, but there is a clear presumption in favour of upholding their significance in government planning guidance, so they do gain protection. Local authorities are required to consult Historic England on applications affecting sites registered as grade I or II*, and the Gardens Trust on sites of all grades. The setting of other designated heritage assets can also protect registered landscapes.

REGISTERED BATTLEFIELDS

Historic England’s Register of Historic Battlefields was set up in 1995, and is our youngest category of designation. Its aim is to protect and promote those sites where history was made through military engagement which can be securely identified on the ground. They range from the Battle of Maldon (991) to Sedgemoor (1685); almost half date from the period of the civil wars in the mid-17th century. These special places, where thousands were often killed, deserve our recognition and respect. Recently, additions have been made to the Register of Historic Battlefields for the first time since its creation. There are now 46 registered battlefields.

Protection is needed to prevent encroachment through inappropriate development, or insensitive (and damaging) metal detecting, which can permanently alter the archaeological record. As with registered parks and gardens, there is a clear presumption in favour of protecting registered battlefields in government planning policy.

PROTECTED WRECK SITES

England’s 49 protected wreck sites represent a tiny proportion of the 33,000 or so pre-1945 wrecks and recorded casualties that are known to lie in the territorial waters. Wreck sites can be of importance for different reasons: the distinctive design or construction of a ship, the story it can tell about its past, its association with notable people or events and its cargo. The Protection of Wrecks Act 1973 empowers the appropriate Secretary of State to designate a restricted area around a vessel to protect it or its contents from unauthorised interference, and Historic England administers the attendant licensing scheme for divers seeking access.

CONSERVATION AREAS

Conservation areas are designated by local authorities and are areas of particular architectural or historic interest, the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve or enhance. For almost 50 years, ever since the 1967 Civic Amenities Act, conservation areas have proved a highly effective mechanism for managing change on an area-wide basis. There are currently 9,853 conservation areas in England including town and city centres, suburbs, industrial areas, rural landscapes, cemeteries and residential areas. They form the historic backcloth to national and local life and are a crucial component of local identity.
Criteria for inclusion on the Register

RISK ASSESSMENTS
Heritage assets included on the Register are risk assessed according to the nature of the site rather than the type of designation. Building or structure assessments are used for secular listed buildings and structural scheduled monuments, typically masonry remains. Archaeology assessments are used for scheduled earthworks and below-ground remains. Thus a scheduled monument may appear on the Register in either or both the building and structure and the archaeology sections depending upon what puts it at risk. Listed buildings that are in use as places of worship are assessed using the places of worship assessment. Registered parks and gardens, conservation areas, battlefields and protected wreck sites have their own assessments because they each have their own particular characteristics and factors that may put them at risk.

BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES
To be considered for inclusion on the Register, buildings or structures must be:

- designated and included on the National Heritage List for England
- a grade I or II* listed building
- a grade II listed building in London
- a structural scheduled monument with upstanding remains
- in secular (non-worship) use

Buildings or structures are assessed on the basis of condition and, where applicable, occupancy (or use) reflecting the fact that a building which is occupied is generally less vulnerable than one that is not.

Occupancy (or use) is assessed as ‘vacant’, ‘part occupied’, ‘occupied’, ‘not applicable’, or occasionally, ‘unknown’. Many structures fall into the ‘not applicable’ category for example: ruins, walls, gates, headstones or boundary stones.

Condition is assessed as ‘very bad’, ‘poor’, ‘fair’ or ‘good’. The condition of buildings or structures on the Register is typically very bad or poor, but can be fair or, very occasionally, good. This reflects the fact that some buildings or structures are vulnerable because they are empty, underused or face redundancy without a new use to secure their future. Assessing vulnerability in the case of buildings in fair condition necessarily involves judgement and discretion. A few buildings remain on the Register in good condition, having been repaired or mothballed, but still awaiting a new use or occupancy.

Buildings or structures are removed from the Register when they are fully repaired/consolidated, and their future secured either through occupation and use, or through the adoption of appropriate management.

PLACES OF WORSHIP
To be considered for inclusion on the Register places of worship must be designated and listed grade I, II* or II on the National Heritage List for England, and be used as a public place of worship at least six times a year.

Places of worship are assessed on the basis of condition only. If a place of worship is in very bad or poor condition it is added to the Register. This includes places of worship which are generally in fair or good condition but have major problems with one key element, like the tower.

Historic England has visited and assessed listed places of worship considered to be in poor or very bad condition according to local assessments. Those that are identified as at risk are included on the Register.

Once on the Register, places of worship can move through the condition categories (e.g. from very bad to poor, to fair, even good) as repairs are implemented and the condition improves, until they are fully repaired and can be removed from the Register. This means that there are some places of worship in good condition on the Register but with outstanding issues still to be resolved at the time when they were assessed.

ARCHAEOLOGY
To be considered for inclusion on the Register archaeological sites must be designated as scheduled monuments and included on the National Heritage List for England. Archaeology assessments cover scheduled earthworks and buried archaeology. The risk assessment is based on their condition and vulnerability, the trend in their condition, and their likely future vulnerability. A site’s condition is expressed in terms of the scale and severity of adverse effects on it ranging from ‘extensive significant problems’, to ‘minor localised problems’.

Archaeological entries are removed from the Register once sufficient progress has been made to address the identified issues, and a significant reduction in the level of risk has been demonstrated.
PARKS AND GARDENS
To be considered for inclusion on the Register parks and gardens must be designated as grade I, II* or grade II and included on the National Heritage List for England. Parks and gardens are assessed in terms of condition and vulnerability. Steps being taken by owners to address problems are also taken into consideration.

Parks and gardens assessed as being at risk are typically affected by development and neglect. They have frequently been altered by development or are faced with major change. The original function of these landscapes has often changed and divided ownership leads to the loss of their cohesive historic design.

Park and garden entries are removed from the Register once steps have been taken to address issues and positive progress is being made.

BATTLEFIELDS
To be considered for inclusion on the Register battlefields must be designated and included on the National Heritage List for England. Battlefields deemed to be at risk of loss of cultural significance are included on the Register.

The principal risks and threats are:
- development pressure e.g. encroachment of buildings
- pressures of particular use within the site e.g. arable cultivation
- damage e.g. unregulated metal detecting

Battlefields are removed from the Register either when damaging activities cease, are managed, or when threats recede due to effective planning.

WRECK SITES
To be considered for inclusion on the Register wrecks must be designated and included on the National Heritage List for England. Wreck sites are assessed based on their current condition, vulnerability and the way they are being managed.

Wrecks are vulnerable to both environmental and human impacts. Risks that contribute to inclusion on the Register range from unauthorised access to erosion and fishing damage.

The monitoring process ensures that the significance of the site is identified and maintained. In spite of the inherent difficulties in caring for this type of site, careful management must be maintained.

Wrecks are removed from the Register once an appropriate management and monitoring regime is operational.

CONSERVATION AREAS
Historic England has asked every local authority in England to complete (and update as appropriate) a survey of its conservation areas, highlighting current condition, threats and trends. Conservation areas that are deteriorating, or are in very bad or poor condition and not expected to change significantly in the next three years, are defined as being at risk.

The approach taken to assess conservation areas at risk has been refined since the first survey in 2008/2009. The information provides a detailed assessment of each conservation area. An overall category for condition, vulnerability and trend is included for each conservation area on this Register. Conservation areas identified as at risk in 2009, but not reassessed since using the revised methodology, are included on the Register but with limited information.

Conservation areas are removed from the Register once plans have been put in place to address the issues that led to the conservation area being at risk, and once positive progress is being made.
Reducing the risks

One of the primary aims of the Historic England Corporate Plan 2015-2018 is reducing the risk to heritage assets. In order to achieve this aim we are working to:

- better understand the nature and extent of risk
- encourage others to save and re-use heritage at risk
- build the capacity of the sector to deliver solutions for heritage at risk
- provide advice and grants to help remove heritage from the Register

Dedicated Heritage at Risk teams in our nine regional offices are tasked with achieving this aim.

Whilst each type of heritage asset and individual site will require its own approach and solution, there are some general approaches that are relevant to all ‘at risk’ assets. Finding solutions for heritage at risk requires working in close partnership with owners, local planning authorities and a wide variety of other organisations. The provision of clear advice is essential to further understanding of heritage at risk.

Maintenance and occupation or use (where appropriate) are essential in preventing heritage from becoming at risk. Maintenance of assets already at risk can prevent them from decaying further. Without maintenance, the cost of repair and consolidation escalates, the challenge for owners and occupiers increases, and the scope for affordable solutions declines.

The Heritage at Risk Register helps us understand what factors lead to heritage assets becoming at risk, what action is most likely to influence their condition and where resources can be focused to best effect. Historic Environment Records and local heritage at risk registers, maintained by local authorities, are additional repositories of information on local historic assets. They underpin the work of local authority historic environment services and can help improve the protection, conservation and management of heritage assets.

Historic England provides a wide range of published guidance on reducing the risks, including; finding partners, funding, new uses for heritage assets, and enforcing urgent works and repairs. These are available to download from our website, www.historicengland.org.uk. Key publications and guidance are listed on pages XV-XVI.

BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES

Our nine regional teams can help existing and potential owners, developers and local authorities with the assessment of risk and the identification of appropriate programmes of repair. They can advise on the benefits of additional survey and assessment, help with feasibility studies and with brokering solutions. In particularly difficult cases, they can draw on the additional expertise of our national advisers specialising in structural engineering, quantity surveying, development economics, enforcement and planning law. Historic England can help with access to funding as we work closely with grant providers including the Heritage Lottery Fund and Natural England. We have two principal grant streams ourselves: Repair Grants for Heritage at Risk for all asset types and Section 17 Management Agreements which are smaller grants for scheduled monuments. More information on funding can be found on the Historic England website.

We know how useful our own Register is in managing risk, prioritising action and engaging partners. We are therefore working with Civic Voice and voluntary groups to enable the compilation of local heritage at risk registers. We are also working with local authorities to encourage them to develop strategies for tackling buildings in poor condition. These strategies should include the use of enforcement powers; ‘Stopping the Rot’ is our published guidance on this. Our Heritage at Risk Solicitor can provide training and support for local authorities considering enforcement action. In certain circumstances we can also provide grant aid to underwrite the cost of serving Urgent Works and Repairs Notices.

Building preservation trusts (BPTs) offer a tried and tested way of saving buildings at risk. We have close links with the Architectural Heritage Fund and fund their regional support officers to work across the country. They help BPTs and other not-for-profit organisations to access funding, carry out feasibility studies and develop solutions for buildings at risk. The United Kingdom Association of Preservation Trusts also provides information about support officers and BPTs. Guidance and case studies are available on the Historic England website.

PLACES OF WORSHIP

Regular maintenance helps to keep all buildings in good condition but those suffering major problems need repairs to minimise the risks to both the structure and the contents. Keeping drains and gutters clear so that water is taken away from the building efficiently is the most important thing congregations can do as this stops small problems developing into unnecessary crises. The overflowing gutter soon soaks the wall beneath, rots the roof timbers behind it and makes the whole building vulnerable.

In some areas congregations group together to engage reputable contractors at competitive rates to clear gutters and rainwater goods. Such cooperation enables them to get good quality work carried out at reasonable prices by firms that understand historic buildings. The Maintenance Cooperatives project run by the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings will further help to connect, inform and empower those people who look after places of worship.

The Heritage Lottery Fund runs the Grants for Places of Worship scheme. The main focus of the scheme is fabric repairs but it also provides funds for modest changes to enhance community use of the building. Historic England’s architects and surveyors, based in our regional Heritage at Risk teams, provide technical advice to the Heritage Lottery Fund on fabric repairs to ensure appropriate conservation standards are met.

The Government’s Listed Places of Worship scheme, enabling the reclaiming of VAT on eligible repairs, maintenance and authorised alterations, is available to all listed places of worship, whether they have obtained grants or are funding work themselves. Local and national charities also offer grants. The Government’s Listed Places of Worship Roof Repair Fund offers grants to help make listed places of worship weather-tight, safe and open for use.

Historic England supports congregations wanting to keep their places of worship in use and recognises the need for appropriate new facilities such as kitchens and toilets that are sensitive to the building’s special character. New Work in Historic Places of Worship helps congregations understand how changes can be achieved.

A network of support officers, employed locally but part funded by Historic England, offers direct advice and encouragement to congregations. Projects to effect repairs and develop necessary new facilities for both the community and visitors are breathing a new lease of life into these treasured parts of our heritage.

ARCHAEOLOGY
The excellent progress which is being made with reducing the number of scheduled monuments on the Register continues to demonstrate the value which owners and land managers are placing upon the positive management of archaeological sites.

The large majority of the 19,832 scheduled monuments in England are on land classified as agricultural. Effective information sharing with Natural England and Defra is therefore of great importance for prioritising management action and for targeting agri-environment grant schemes to best effect. This is especially important under the New Environmental Land Management Scheme (NELMS) which commenced in 2015. Natural England shared our corporate target of removing 25% of the scheduled monuments on the 2010 Register by 2015, which was achieved with 35% being removed. We also continue to work closely with the Heritage Lottery Fund to identify the nationally important monuments deserving of grant-aid for enhanced conservation, presentation and access projects.

Loss and damage as a consequence of arable cultivation remains the greatest source of risk to scheduled monuments on the Register. The Conservation of Scheduled Monuments in Cultivation (COSMIC) project will provide updated risk assessments for all sites affected by arable cultivation on the Register. It provides bespoke prescriptions for reducing the risks from cultivation damage. In some cases, the COSMIC mitigation recommendations have already been acted upon by our local teams, resulting in over 130 entries being removed from the 2014 Register.

Analysis of entries on the Register shows that prehistoric barrows are one of the most ‘at risk’ types of archaeological site on the Register. Unmanaged woodland, tree, scrub and bracken growth remains one of the most widespread causes of long-term damage to both urban and rural archaeological sites - even if the effects are not as visible or as immediately destructive as other processes. In most cases simple, low cost but regular maintenance is the key. The delivery of this will always be reliant upon the help and goodwill of landowners.

PARKS AND GARDENS
Although a statutory list, the Register of Historic Parks and Gardens of Special Historic Interest in England in itself brings no additional statutory powers, instead it is used in the development control process to provide a valuable tool for the protection of the sites it includes. The Government’s National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) stresses the desirability of sustaining and enhancing the significance of all heritage assets and finding viable uses consistent with their conservation.

The NPPF states that great weight must be given to the conservation of sites included on the Register of Historic Parks and Gardens of Special Historic Interest and that substantial harm or loss of such features can only be justified in exceptional cases.

A great many historic parks and gardens are either privately owned or held in trust. In addition, local authorities are responsible for nearly all the public parks and cemeteries in our towns and cities. Registered parks and gardens are typically large, complex heritage assets, many of them in multiple ownership. It can take years to identify and implement proposals to improve their condition and trajectory. To help reduce the risks, Historic England encourages and works with owners to develop conservation management strategies. Landscape architects working in our Heritage at Risk teams can help tailor conservation management plans and funding packages.
for individual landscape features or whole sites. We work with partners, such as Natural England and the Heritage Lottery Fund, to help source funding to secure sustainable futures for parks and gardens at risk.

BATTLEFIELDS

As with registered parks and gardens, the Register of Historic Battlefields brings no additional statutory controls to registered battlefields, but the National Planning Policy Framework makes it clear that registered battlefields are of equal significance to scheduled monuments, buildings listed grade I and II*, registered parks and gardens and protected wreck sites. Therefore, the positive conservation and management of registered battlefields is a core element of current heritage legislation.

Historic England continues to work with owners to develop management plans for registered battlefields and, in appropriate cases, contribute towards the cost of management plans. We work to develop positive landscape strategies with owners and partners such as Defra through Environmental Stewardship schemes. In some circumstances, we may encourage the conversion from arable to pasture of especially sensitive locations to protect battlefield archaeology from the effects of ploughing and as part of a wider drive to prevent unauthorised or damaging metal detecting.

Historic England also continues to encourage greater access to battlefields and the improvement of their amenity value and visitors’ understanding of the impact these dramatic historic events had on our development as a nation.

Local authorities can also invite comments from the Battlefields Trust on planning applications affecting the setting of registered battlefield sites.

WRECK SITES

At the strategic level, the major sources of risk to protected wreck sites have been identified. In terms of high priority sites, practical requirements have also been implemented through conservation management plans and appropriate intervention.

Risks to protected historic wreck sites can often be reduced through education, provision of marker buoys, or planning policies that take full account of their national importance. However, some sites require significant resources to stabilise their condition or to carry out detailed archaeological assessments of their conservation requirements. Although Historic England has statutory power to allocate funds to promote the preservation and maintenance of protected wreck sites, its financial resources can solve only a small proportion of the problems.

In spite of the inherent difficulties with caring for this type of site, careful management must be maintained if we are to avoid the loss of wreck sites. It is therefore close cooperation between the owners of protected wreck sites (where known), authorised divers and all organisations charged with care for the marine and coastal environment, that will make the real difference to their long term survival.

Practical advice on the management of historic wreck sites, whether at the coast edge or under water, is available from Historic England.

CONSERVATION AREAS

The reasons conservation areas become at risk are difficult to address as they can cover large areas of land; they include streets, spaces, archaeology and trees as well as buildings and structures and therefore involve many different owners and approaches to management. Looking after conservation areas is a responsibility shared by those of us who live, work or do business in them as well as those of us whose job it is to manage them or make decisions about their future.

Local authorities complete the Conservation Areas Survey, providing us with an understanding of what is particularly affecting the character and appearance of conservation areas, what is working well or what is putting them at risk. Strong planning policies, guidance and a clear management strategy for individual conservation areas, backed up by effective enforcement, are all critical in managing change in these areas. Local authorities across the country continue to see their resources reduced, and this is making their task more difficult to deliver. Armed with the information provided by conservation area surveys, we, local authorities and other partners will have the evidence to direct resources much more accurately towards those conservation areas at greatest risk.

There are opportunities for members of the local community to get involved with protecting and enhancing their conservation area, either individually or through groups. Some local groups have helped to prepare character appraisals and management plans for conservation areas whilst others have carried out their own assessments to identify management issues.

Key to the entries

This Register includes the following risk assessment types:

- Building or structure
  (grade I and II* listed buildings and structural scheduled monuments)
- Place of worship
  (grade I, II* and II listed buildings)
- Archaeology
  (scheduled monuments – earthworks and buried archaeology)
- Park and garden
  (Registered parks and gardens)
- Battlefield
  (Registered battlefields)
- Conservation area
  (Conservation areas)

ORDER

Entries are grouped and ordered alphabetically, first by County (dark grey bands) or Unitary Authority (light grey bands), and then by Local Planning Authority (National Park/Unitary Authority/District or Borough).

A blank band denotes the end of a county and the beginning of a unitary authority.

Sites that straddle more than one local planning authority are included under the lead authority.

Within each planning authority, entries are grouped by risk assessment type in the following order:

- Buildings or structures
- Places of worship
- Archaeology
- Parks and gardens
- Battlefields
- Conservation areas

Within each risk assessment type, entries are ordered alphabetically by parish, locality and street/site name (except for conservation areas which are ordered by site name only).

DESIGNATION

The principal designation is noted for each entry and includes:

- Listed Building (LB) grade I or II*
- Listed Place of Worship grade I, II* or II
- Scheduled Monument (SM)
- Registered Park and Garden (RPG) grade I, II* or II
- Registered Battlefield
- Conservation Area (CA)

Other designations that apply to the designated site, including location within a World Heritage Site (WHS), are also noted.

If an entry is dual designated (both listed and scheduled), ‘and’ rather than a comma is used (e.g. ‘Scheduled Monument and Listed Building grade I’). If a scheduled monument entry is dual designated with a number of listed buildings, each is separated by a semicolon.

The National Heritage List Entry Number is included for all entries (except conservation areas). If a site is dual designated, all relevant List Entry Numbers are noted.

CONDITION

For buildings (including places of worship), condition is graded as: ‘very bad’, ‘poor’, ‘fair’ and ‘good’.

For sites that cover areas (scheduled monuments (archaeology assessments), parks and gardens and battlefields) one overall condition category is recorded. The category may relate only to the part of the site or monument that is at risk and not the whole site:

- extensive significant problems
- generally unsatisfactory with major localised problems
- generally satisfactory but with significant localised problems
- generally satisfactory but with minor localised problems
- optimal
- unknown (noted for a number of scheduled monuments that are below-ground and where their condition cannot be established).

For conservation areas, condition is categorised as: ‘very bad’, ‘poor’, ‘fair’ and ‘optimal’.

If a site has suffered from heritage crime it is noted in the summary. Heritage crime is defined as any offence which harms the heritage asset or its setting and includes arson, graffiti, lead theft and vandalism.

OCCUPANCY/USE

For buildings (excluding places of worship) that can be occupied or have a use, the main vulnerability is vacancy or under-use. Occupancy (or use) is noted as follows:

- vacant
- part occupied
- occupied
- unknown
- not applicable
VULNERABILITY

Principal vulnerability is noted for archaeology assessments and may relate only to the part of the site that is at risk, and include:
• animal burrowing
• arable ploughing
• coastal erosion
• collapse
• deterioration – in need of management
• scrub/tree growth
• visitor erosion

For parks and gardens, battlefields and conservation areas, vulnerability is noted as high, medium or low.

PRIORITY CATEGORY

Priority for action is assessed on a scale of A to F, where ‘A’ is the highest priority for a site which is deteriorating rapidly with no solution to secure its future, and ‘F’ is the lowest priority.

For buildings and structures and places of worship, the following priority categories are used as an indication of trend and as a means of prioritising action:

A Immediate risk of further rapid deterioration or loss of fabric; no solution agreed
B Immediate risk of further rapid deterioration or loss of fabric; solution agreed but not yet implemented
C Slow decay; no solution agreed
D Slow decay; solution agreed but not yet implemented
E Under repair or in fair to good repair, but no user identified; or under threat of vacancy with no obvious new user (applicable only to buildings capable of beneficial use)
F Repair scheme in progress and (where applicable) end use or user identified; or functionally redundant buildings with new use agreed but not yet implemented.

For battlefields, the following priority categories are used as a means of prioritising action:

A No action/strategy identified or agreed (where trend is declining or unknown)
B Action/strategy agreed but not yet implemented (where trend is declining or unknown)
C No action/strategy identified or agreed (where trend is stable or improving)
D Action/strategy agreed but not yet implemented (where trend is stable or improving)
E Monitoring as appropriate (any trend)
F Action implemented/strategy underway/scheme in progress (any trend)

2014 priority categories are given in brackets, otherwise ‘New entry’ is noted.
‘New entry – re-assessed’ indicates an existing site on the Register that has been re-assessed using a different risk assessment methodology and is included on this year’s Register under the new assessment type.

TREND

Trend for archaeology entries, parks and gardens and battlefields may relate only to the part of the site that is at risk and is categorised as:
• declining
• stable
• improving
• unknown

For conservation areas trend is categorised as:
• deteriorating
• deteriorating significantly
• no significant change
• improving
• improving significantly
• unknown

OWNERSHIP

A principal ownership category is given for each entry, and if sites are in divided ownership, a ‘multiple’ ownership category is noted.

CONTACT

This is the member of the Historic England local team who acts as a first point of contact for the case, and to whom enquiries should be addressed.

For conservation areas, the contact is the conservation/planning officer at the relevant local planning authority (indicated by ‘LPA’).

We are not in any sense agents for the owners of the sites included, but we will endeavour to put people in touch with them where appropriate.

Dating from 1815, Cleveland Baths are believed to be the oldest surviving public outdoor swimming pools in England. A diminutive Georgian crescent houses the changing rooms and Caretaker’s Cottage. The Cleveland Pool Trust completed a business plan, condition survey and scheme design with Historic England grant aid in 2012. They were awarded Heritage Lottery Fund funding in 2014 and are undertaking Stage 1 works.

Tower crown and spire lantern masonry is in poor condition with on-going iron and dowel corrosion levering off parts of the decorative stone, which are then at risk of falling. Repairs commenced Spring 2015 with a Heritage Lottery Fund grant.

One of a terrace of seven houses located in a largely complete Georgian square, c1789-1820. Limestone ashlar, brick stacks, slate mansard roofs, double-depth plan. Late Georgian style, four storeys with attic and basement. A planning application for repair works and conversion to residential use was submitted in December 2014 and is under consideration as of June 2015.

Terraced houses, built from 1789 to 1820. Emergency repairs carried out with Historic England grant aid in 1996. Wind and weather tight, but masonry continues to decay. There has been a partial collapse of the facade. An approved scheme for repairs and residential conversion expires in December 2015.

Carriage works, 1862. A notable building in a manner recognised as particular to the city. Large and complex site including 4 Ashley Road (grade II), also in very bad condition. There is currently a live planning application for a mixed use redevelopment of the site (June 2015).

Large Decorated Gothic Revival church of c1900 by the Bristol architect Sir George Osbaldeston. Plan and form is considered exceptional for its creative fusion of the congregational and liturgical. Site was a former clay quarry and the foundations rest on filled ground at differing levels. The building suffered from differential settlement and was monitored for structural movement. A grant from Historic England and the Heritage Lottery Fund was offered in 2012 for surface water drainage works and structural repairs. Repairs completed in 2014. Some roofing and drainage issues yet to be addressed.

C13 church with C19 restoration. Roof coverings and rainwater goods are all in poor condition, and there is vegetation growing out of the eroding masonry. Areas of mortar erosion and cement render in need of replacement. This building has been a victim of heritage crime.

Church built in 1853 to designs by Manners and Gill, but rebuilt by Charles Hansom 14 years later after fire destroyed all but the tower and spire. The roof coverings probably date from the 1867 build and are all in poor condition and in need of replacement. The valley gutters have been patch repaired many times and also need long-term repair. A repair grant from Historic England and the Heritage Lottery Fund was successfully applied for in 2011 and work is due to be completed in 2015.

Site consists of the walls and well-preserved bell turret of a C14 manorial chapel. Re-use as a farm building in the C19 caused modifications to the structure which nonetheless retained its original oak wagon roof until the 1960s. Conservation work in the 1990s helped protect and stabilise the structure, but now water seeping into rear wall has built up causing it to distort and become unstable. Recent scaffolding funded by Historic England was urgently needed to save the wall from falling. Further long term measures are required to protect the ruin from further decay.

House, now farmhouse. Circa early C17, possibly remodelled in 1660 (datestone) for ‘PW’. The house only survives in part and was probably of overall ‘H’ shaped plan. It has been a tenanted farm for a number of years and the lack of recent maintenance has left all the buildings in a poor state. Following an unsuccessful application to convert its barns to individual dwellings, the estate which owns Trenearne has entered into discussions with Historic England regarding a comprehensive solution for the whole site, which may lead to its ultimate sale.

Lomotive turntable associated with adjacent roundhouse is deteriorating through lack of maintenance having been taken out of service in 2002. A rail company who provide main line steam-train excursions into Cornwall are exploring taking on a lease to enable continued usage by their locomotives.

Chapel dated 1846. Exceptionally well preserved interior with gallery and good quality original fittings including leaders’ pew. Now separated from the small Sunday school. Damaging partial conversion works in 2012 preceded sale of the building. Protracted negotiations have been taking place with the new owner about the possible extent of conversion. The building has been deteriorating in the interim and its roof is in a very poor state, with consequential damage occurring to the interior.

Mid-C19, part of William White’s layout for the Bishop’s Palace which became a Rectory and latterly a hotel. Obscured and threatened by dense vegetation. White’s wrought iron gate, referred to in the List description, is not at present hung and its whereabouts is unknown.

Late C18/early C19 estate agricultural building. Attributed to Soane for the Port Eliot Estate. In low key use but condition remains very poor. Currently tenanted by a roofing company who are undertaking localised repairs. Condition improving.

Church of St Petroc, Church Street, Padstow  Large parish church in the village of Padstow. Three aisled plan with a west tower mostly C15 with C12 work surviving on the lower stages of the tower. The tower stonework has bowing and unstable stonework in the core, at mid height and head. Inserted internal reinforced concrete beams are now decaying. Some of the bellied stonework could become sufficiently fluid in very wet weather to collapse without notice. A C20 flat tower roof has failed with decay threatening the structure. Church of St Rumon, Ruanlanihorne  Small parish church in the centre of a small village. Two aisles and a south transept and west tower mostly from the C14 but roofs from the C19 restoration. The stonework is badly open jointed at the west end, the roofs need repair as there are evident leaks and rot in the valley gutter with resultant falls of ceiling plaster.

Contact: Chris Miners 0117 975 1308

Church of St Credan, Sancreed  Small parish church. C14 short west tower otherwise twin aisled plan, south porch and north transept all C15 and all granite with Cornish slate roofs. Largely rebuilt in restoration by JD Sedding of 1891. Vegetation growth on and around the church makes the condition difficult to assess. Slates have slipped from the main roofs. The rainwater system is rusted and leaking, harming the structure behind, and the leaking valley has caused internal decay. Falls of masonry have shattered slates on the tower roof. A Heritage Lottery Fund repair grant has been awarded and is now at development stage.

Church of St Brueredus, Churchtown St Breward, St. Breward  Small parish church in a small village on the edge of Bodmin Moor. Plan of two aisles and a west tower. C12 origins of the cruciform church plan now masked by the C15 south aisle and tower. Granite ashlar except for granite rubble on the earlier nave wall, Cornish slate roofs. These roofs are leaking and have caused falls of ceiling plaster in the nave.

A large three aisled church in mid Cornwall. The six main large roof pitches need relaying because the C19 nails holding the slates on are rusting away. The valleys have split and although patched frequently, still let in water which is causing internal damage. A Heritage Lottery Fund and Historic England Repair Grant for Places of Worship for repairs to the roof was offered in 2011 and repairs are nearing completion.

Small rural parish church famed for reference in John Betjeman’s autobiographical ‘Summoned by Bells’. C15 core but part ruinous until a 1956 restoration when the unusual truncated tower with hipped roof was created. Cruciform plan of nave and chancel with opposing north and south transepts all C13. There are structural problems with three of the gables, one of which has harmful vegetation growth.

The church has C14 and C15 origins evidenced in the north and south aisle arcades. Rebuilt in 1872 to designs by JP St Aubyn, following collapse of tower and part of the nave. The ring beams were inserted at two levels in the tower walls to address structural weaknesses, probably when the bells were lowered in the 1950s. The damp environment of the tower and the inadequate cover to the concrete means the reinforcement is corroding and therefore presenting a structural weakness which will only deteriorate if left unrepaired.

Large span hipped scantle slated roof, granite rubble walls with granite dressings (rendered to the front). The roof leaks, mostly from the south and west, with some sections blown away in winter 2013. The rainwater goods need replacing with more durable types. The walls and the failing render need repair. A Heritage Lottery Fund Grant for Places of Worship has been awarded with repairs underway in 2015.

Large parish church. Classic Cornish plan of three parallel ranges with a west tower and south porch. C12 origins and developed in the C15 and C19 restorations. Granite walls and sized Cornish slates, with ragslates on the outer pitches. The porch roof and the south outer pitch have sufficient slippage to need replacement. The south valley gutter arcade plate has dry rot from a former leak (now cured). The tower roof has stress cracking. A Heritage Lottery Fund Grant for Places of Worship has been offered and accepted, and development work completed.

Tiny single cell chapel in an isolated position. Rubble stone walls and Cornish ragslate roof. C15 origins, became agricultural outbuilding at the reformation and converted back to a chapel in 1941. Vegetation growth on and around the building. Gutters have fallen, and the internal paint finish is badly discoloured by damp especially at low level. A grant has been offered through the Listed Places of Worship Roof Repair Fund 2015.

OWNER TYPE: Private, multiple owners

LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1000544

Mid C18 formal terraced and water gardens, together with an C18 landscape park. The main house burned down in 1934 and the site is now in divided ownership. SITE NAME: Battle of Braddock Down, BroadOak / St. Pinnock

DESIGNATION: Registered Battlefield, LB grade II, 2 SMs

CONDITION: Extensive significant problems

VULNERABILITY: High

TREND: Declining

PRIORITY CATEGORY: A (A)

OWNER TYPE: Private

LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1000005

Battle of Braddock Down, 1643. A large proportion of the designated area of the battlefield is under the plough, including two of the scheduled barrows. The site is therefore at risk. Geophysical survey work is being undertaken in 2015 on two of the barrows within the battlefield, surrounding ditches, and a small area of adjacent ground. If arable reversion follows to protect the barrows, it will also afford protection from further disturbance to the battlefield and any buried deposits, particularly in the barrow ditches. However the battlefield as a whole will still be at risk.

SITE NAME: Church of Holy Trinity, Dunkeswell
DESIGNATION: Listed Place of Worship grade II, SM
CONDITION: Poor
PRIORITY CATEGORY: C (C)
OWNER TYPE: Religious organisation
LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1308999

Parish church, built on the site of Dunkeswell Abbey Church in 1842. Local stone and flint rubble with Hamstone dressings and detail; slate roof. The roofs had substantial leaks which have caused significant water ingress. This has damaged the internal plaster. The congregation has temporarily repaired the north aisle and the north side is beginning to dry out. The congregation is considering how to raise funds to re-roof the building.

The church was largely rebuilt in 1657; west tower, south aisle and east end of north aisle are C17. The roofs over the chancel and transepts are in very bad condition. Due to poor original design and lack of maintenance over time the rainwater goods have failed and water is penetrating the parapet walls and entering the church. Water ingress above north transept and chapel is damaging decorative detail. Received a Repair Grant for Places of Worship from Historic England and Heritage Lottery Fund and repairs carried out in 2013. HLF grant awarded for further repairs which are underway in 2015.

This highly distinctive church was designed by the leading architect WD Caroe (1897-9) and is in a freely-treated Gothic style. There have been longstanding issues with the west end of the church, which is moving but has been secured with scaffolding to prevent further cracking. Options for repair are ongoing.

The church is very compact, which reflects its constricted site just within the walls of medieval Exeter. Scaffolding was put up to inspect the tower stonework in late 2013/14 and it was found to be in a very bad condition. The congregation have applied for a Heritage Lottery Fund grant to repair the tower in 2015/16.

The church is extensive, having two library ceiling roofs. Investigation has led to major structural deficiencies being revealed and ceilings being scaffolded. Structural repair urgently required. Historic England is grant-aiding a conservation and repair project which is underway in 2015.

Hotel in partial use, formerly early C17 merchant's house. Condition has deteriorated to the point where its structural stability caused concern for public safety, and Mid Devon District Council authorised serving a repairs notice. Discussions between the owner and the Local Authority have led to submission of a listed building consent application for structural repairs to the most vulnerable part of the building, but its long-term future remains uncertain. This simple C18 church is in an isolated rural location. There are two other Baptist churches within a five mile radius which are closer to centres of population. Its physical problems are putting historic fabric at risk in respect of windows, and could rapidly escalate into more serious repair problems if not remedied. The chapel has been sold and is no longer in use as a place of worship. Historic England has had discussions with the owner.

Contact: Meriel O'Dowd 0117 975 0673

Parish church. Nave and north and south aisles possibly first half of the C15; Lane’s Aisle begun in 1526 and building still in progress in 1552; west tower begun 1539 and building still in progress in 1545; church restored and the chancel rebuilt in 1849–51 by Edward Ashworth. Coursed rubble red sandstone and breccia with Beerstone dressing. West tower, nave, north and south aisles, outer south aisle, south-west porch, chancel, south-east vestry. Tower stonework is dangerous and has been netted to prevent further falls. Grant given by Heritage Lottery Fund to go on site in 2015.

Contact: Meriel O'Dowd 0117 975 0673

C15 parish church with C16 north aisle and some window tracery renewed in the C19. The fabric of the church is generally well maintained, but the tower suffers from damp problems and the roof and roof structure are in poor condition. The appointed surveyor and a structural engineer inspected the roof in 2013 and a scheme of repair is under consideration in 2015.

Building circa 1846-50 by Philip Hardwick, with a rear range by RD Gould. The house lies within an estate, and there are several other listed structures within the vicinity. The main range is generally fair, but the rear range is in very poor condition, though the roof is now weathertight.

The Estate has prepared a condition survey in order to understand and monitor mechanisms of decay and to prioritise repairs, some of which have qualified for funding from Natural England. A pilot repair scheme was undertaken in 2013/14 with funding from Natural England. This has been extended in 2014/15 with good progress made on the repair of further lengths, although work is still required to stabilise other sections.

Parish church. Rebuilt in C15 restored circa late C17 and 1878-79. Tower has C13/14 west doorway. Stone rubble with freestone dressings and slate roofs, tower rendered. Nave and chancel in one. The church is generally very well maintained and a number of significant repairs have been undertaken. Despite this, the tower remains damp with problems with the render and the main roofs also need work. Historic England is undertaking further investigations and when the results are known the parish hopes to apply for a grant to undertake the works.

Built as stables, 1779. The stables were stripped out when they were superseded by a new larger stable block in 1843 and converted to a magnificent backdrop to newly laid out gardens for the 11th Duke of Somerset. It is a key feature of the Stover’s grade II designed landscape. Now in very bad condition due to spread and distortion of single ashlar front, rusting cramps, and water and vegetation damage. Fenced off. Repairs have been agreed under a Natural England Higher Level Stewardship scheme.

In the mid C19 the picturesque grounds comprised lawns, parterres, shrubberies, parkland and a lake. In the C20 the property was occupied by a school before being divided into apartments. The pleasure grounds are neglected and much of the park is ploughed, with considerable loss of parkland planting.

Formerly a seat of the Dukes of Somerset. Late C18 gardens, pleasure grounds and park. Now in divided ownership. A large area of the park is now run by the County Council as a country park and other parts developed as mineral workings. The main house and environs are in use as a school. The setting is under threat from a variety of development pressures, including road widening and housing allocation. A parkland plan was produced with Environmental Stewardship grant aid in 2014 and funding opportunities are currently being explored to implement the plan’s recommendations.

Church of St James, Jacobstowe
Parish church. Mainly mid to late C14 although the chancel may be earlier, porch probably early C15; various repairs made in C19 and restored in 1891-2. Granite and slate rubble walls with granite dressings, tower is constructed of coursed dressed granite blocks of irregular sizes. Medieval structure enhanced by the remarkable survival of a large amount of wall paintings. The church suffers from water ingress and there is some structural movement at the east end.

Church of Holy Cross, Highampton
Parish church. C12 origins with circa late C15 tower and the rest of the church rebuilt in 1837. Restored in 1876. The church suffers from water ingress and damp possibly associated with its very exposed position. The tower walls are damp, and the parish and appointed architect are investigating the causes. Active insect infestation to ceiling timber ribs. Some roof slates cracked and missing. North-west window buckled and missing glass. The congregation intends to apply to the Heritage Lottery Fund for a grant for work to the tower.

Contact: Meriel O'Dowd 0117 975 0673

Church of St Mary, Bratton Clovelly
Parish church. C12 origins but main fabric dates to C15, restored and extended in 1902-3. Stone rubble walls with granite ashlar to buttresses and upper stage of tower. The pew platforms have decayed due to inadequate ventilation and become dangerous. The westernmost two have collapsed. In 2013 the congregation has been awarded a Heritage Lottery Fund grant for funds to re-seat the church. Works are ongoing.

On the southern side of the village of Witchampton lie the ruins of a substantial domestic medieval building. It was used as an agricultural building in C19 but subsequently fell into disrepair. Following a change of ownership, scrub/vegetation clearance work was undertaken (winter 2013-14) and a major conservation repair scheme is in preparation in 2015.

Formerly church of a Benedictine abbey now used as a school chapel. Mainly C14, upper part of tower and north transept C15. Restored c1790 by J Wyatt and 1865 by Sir Gilbert Scott. Walls of stone and flint with ashlar dressings. Choir with north and south aisles, north and south transepts, crossing tower and west porch. Nave and aisles not rebuilt after fire in C14. Rainwater goods (downpipes and gutters) are failing causing water to penetrate the walls and vaults which is damaging the stonework, including the internal vaults. Heritage Lottery Fund Stage 1 grant awarded in 2014.

Ruins of C14 stone built manor house within Sturminster Newton Castle, a probable Iron Age promontory fort overlooking the River Stour. Upstanding remains are in a very precarious position and a considerable amount of consolidation work is urgently required to avoid significant areas of collapse. Historic England architectural survey team has recorded the structure. Recent change of ownership (2015). Historic England in discussions with new owners. Some masonry has recently fallen.

Barn and outbuilding range, Tarrant Abbey Farm, Tarrant Crawford
C15 barn with C18 outbuildings and alterations. No longer in agricultural use. Works have been undertaken to support the structure but deterioration is on-going and part of the roof has collapsed.

Manor Farm Barn, Winterborne Clenston
Huge late C16 tithe barn part used for storage. The hammerbeam roof may have been reused from a monastic building at Milton Abbey. Partial roof collapse resulted in Historic England funding the erection of scaffolding as a temporary roof support. These repair works were completed in 2008, but there has been no further progress and the building is slowly deteriorating.

Church of St Peter and St Paul, Market Place, Blandford Forum
This grade I church is a notable example of Georgian church architecture outside London. It was rebuilt after fire between 1732 and 1739 to designs by John and William Bastard. The external stonework is in poor condition and there is water ingress to the interior causing damage to the plaster work. The cupola is in very poor condition and held in place with a temporary supporting structure. Heritage Lottery Fund grant offered 2014 and repairs to be carried out in 2015.

Church of All Saints, Church Hill, Kington Magna
Parish church consisting of nave, chancel, north and south aisles, west tower and north vestry and south porch. The tower dates from the late C15, largely constructed in the Perpendicular style, with the remainder rebuilt in 1862. It is built of coursed rubble (mainly the tower) and coursed squared rubble (mainly C19), both with ashlar dressings. Tower roof is leaking and the stonework to the parapets is cracking.

Linear boundary 870 metres south west of Spring Farm, Ashmore
Repair scheme in progress and (where applicable) end use or user identified; or functionally redundant buildings with new use agreed but not yet implemented.

- DESIGNATION: Scheduled Monument and Listed Buildings - 5 grade I; 5 grade II*; 4 grade II, CA
- CONDITION: Very bad

This large scheduled site contains 12 individually listed buildings, five of which are in poor or very bad condition, and are therefore assessed as being at risk. Discussions with the owner are on-going, and several of the buildings were included in a 2013/14 condition survey to inform a future repair strategy. The published photo shows the dovecote, which is disused and unstable due to burrowing animals and settlement of the foundations. It has potential for low-key use in conjunction with a visitor attraction centred on the nearby Tithe Barn complex.

Since 2012 a local trust has carried out project development work, grant aided by Historic England, which included a conservation management plan, a condition survey and feasibility study exploring the viability of using the building for community purposes. The trust completed this work in March 2014. Ownership of building transferred to trust in March 2015. Heritage Lottery Fund Stage 2 funding in place and Historic England grant offered in December 2014 with works due to begin in 2015.

Mid C16 stable building, forming part of a working farm but currently disused. The thatch is in a very degraded state leading to partial collapse of the roof and rear wall structure at the end of 2011. The building has been scaffolded with a temporary roof structure whilst the Local Authority and Historic England are discussing the need for urgent repairs with the owner and exploring possible sources of grant aid. This 1930s Arts and Crafts church is a simple, low building on the quayside, built to serve the local fishing community. The concrete vestry roof is in a very bad state, and is letting water into the vestry. The main body of the roof is also poor, with nail sickness and water penetration through the copings and kneelers. The congregation has begun the process of fundraising to repair the roof.

NOTE

Parish Church of St Andrew, Trent

SITE NAME: Parish Church of St Andrew, Trent
DESIGNATION: Listed Place of Worship grade I, CA
CONDITION: Poor
PRIORITY CATEGORY: B (B)
OWNER TYPE: Religious organisation
LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1323927

A grade I medieval church with a richly decorated interior. There is internal damp and structural work to the tower and spire is needed. The church also has important and high quality medieval and Victorian window glass, some of which is showing signs of structural instability and paint detachment. The congregation has received approval for a trial of isothermal glazing and it is hoped that this may help to stabilise the glass and preserve it for future generations by providing a controlled and stable climate immediately adjacent to the decoration.

Commemorative monument (1770s) decaying on one side and the railings are displaced and in poor condition. Basic maintenance has been undertaken, but no significant repairs.

Folly, begun 1721, designed by Lord Bathurst with Alexander Pope's advice, completed 1732. Probably the earliest C18 mock-Gothic castle; part former house, part banqueting house and part mock ruin. Located in Oakley Wood, with rides radiating from it through the wood. Building is in a poor state of repair.

Architecturally distinctive parish church in the high Gothic style by JL Pearson 1863. Cruciform plan with a pyramidal spire. Limestone with red sandstone features, stone slate roofs. The stone slates are slipping or fractured and need renewal. The sandstone colonettes are heavily eroded on the outside and are structurally unsafe. The building is closed pending repairs to make it safe.

Large parish church in centre of village. Saxon foundation, with some Norman work and elements from all periods including C15 tower and re-roofing of nave, up to restoration of 1870. Mostly coursed limestone with some random walling, ashlar tower. Roofs of mixed materials. Basically cruciform plan with west tower, nave with south porch and transepts, chancel with north vestry. Leaking roof of the nave has been patched for decades but now needs complete renewal. Heritage Lottery Fund grants have been applied for.

Large parish church in the centre of large village. Nave, chancel and flanking north aisle with a west tower. C12 origins still evident on the north side of the chancel but mostly C16 limestone ashlar work visible. A grant has been offered through the Listed Places of Worship Roof Repair Fund 2015.

Hatherop Castle, Hatherop / Quenington

Hatherop is thought to have been landscaped by Capability Brown’s contemporary Richard Woods and then reworked extensively in the C19. The main house is occupied by a school with an adjacent area of new build. The wider parkland, in separate ownership, is neglected: many parkland trees have gone, clumps and ornamental woodland are over-mature and decaying, and sections of park wall and estate railings are in very poor condition.

SITE NAME: Church of St Mary and All Angels, Blaisdon
DESIGNATION: Listed Place of Worship grade II
CONDITION: Poor
PRIORITY CATEGORY: C (C)
OWNER TYPE: Religious organisation
LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1299195

Parish church, C15 tower, the rest rebuilt 1867-9; by FR Kempson of Hereford in the Early English style. Tower thin coursed rubble, church squared red Forest stone with Bath stone ashlar dressings; slate roof. West tower four-bay nave, with north aisle, chancel with vestry, south entrance porch. The damp penetration into the church stonework at both high and low level now puts the building at risk.

LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1211330

A late Victorian parish church overlooking the centre of Coleford, the last phase of which was completed in 1907. The roof has been partly repaired but the remainder is leaking badly, which has damaged the interior of the church.

Large parish church. C1I, C12, C14, C15, probably C18, C19 restoration. Slate roofs, south aisle flat roof. Repair Grant for Place of Worship funding from Historic England and Heritage Lottery Fund has remedied the structural problems of the spire and the high level west aisle gables. CONDITION: Fair
PRIORITY CATEGORY: F (F)

LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1078649

A large church in the centre of Newent. The stonework of the tower is heavily eroded, increasingly worse the higher it gets. The stone parapets are in the worst condition and feel insecure. Past deathwatch beetle attack in the tower and the nave lintels needs to be independently investigated and a control strategy established. A joint Historic England/Heritage Lottery Fund Repair Grant for Places of Worship was successfully applied for and work started in 2013 and was completed in the summer of 2014. DESIGNATION: Listed Place of Worship grade I, CA
CONDITION: Poor
PRIORITY CATEGORY: A (New entry)
OWNER TYPE: Religious organisation
LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1212955

Large late medieval parish church known as the ‘cathedral of the forest’. The plan consists of nave, north and south aisles, chancel, north and south chancel chapels, a south porch and adjoining chantry chapel. At the west end is the massive tower with a semi-octagonal south-east stair turret, terminating in a striking corner pinnacle. The issues with the tower are those of sandstone masonry delamination, loose cement pointing and repairs on all elevation walls and buttresses. Minor stone falls will happen with ever-increasing potential costs and dangers of falls to the public.

This church’s tower with its tall shingled spire is an exceptional landmark on the Severn estuary; the tower dates from c1270, the timber-framed spire was added c14. Spire now needs re-covering. Many shingles have fallen and fixings have failed so that the steeple jacks can no longer safely carry out repairs. The weathervane has had to be removed. Rainwater damage to the historic timber frame is now therefore a risk. Repair Grant for Place of Worship funding from Historic England and Heritage Lottery Fund in December 2012, with development work complete in 2014. Repairs are starting in 2015.

<td>Mansion c1854-68 incorporating a magnificent private chapel. The Woodchester Mansion Trust was formed in 1989 to do a continuous programme of conservation and display of the uncompleted Gothic-style masterpiece. In 1991 a protective scaffold was built to cover the leaking roof of the chapel. The scaffold is now decaying and unsafe. Repairs are immediately needed to the scaffold or, ideally, the roof underneath. Other adjacent roofs are now developing serious faults. Development work is being organised in order to apply for the large grant funding now needed.</td>

Small Victorian rural church. Cotswold stone walls, roof tiles and tower with a squat spire. The spire has opening joints due to rusting cramps. The congregation has completed a repair scheme to the tower and spire. However the stone slate roofs are in a poor condition especially the north slopes with numbers of missing slates and until this problem is resolved the building remains at risk.

St Mary Magdalene is a parish church with an early C16 west tower. The body of the church dates largely from 1842, to a design by Thomas Foster and Son of Bristol, with 1895 additions by FS and FW Waller all in the Decorated style. The roof pitches have some missing or fractured stone slates and the rainwater goods now need an urgent overhaul.

Small church. C1 foundation, earliest work probably of C14, altered and tower added late C15/early C16, north aisle added 1842, restored c1884-5 by Sir Arthur Blomfield. Random coursed and dressed stone, ashlar tower and part ashlar walls, stone slate roof with coped east verges with saddle stones and cross finials. West tower, nave with south porch and north aisle, chancel, with north vestry of 1880s. The stone slates have slipped or fallen on the nave and north aisle pitches and the porch.

SITE NAME: Elms Colliery, Nailsea

Known locally as Middle Engine Pit, this is one of the most complete examples of an early C19 colliery remaining in England. There are three standing structures and further exposed archaeological remains. All buildings are unroofed, derelict, and subject to neglect, decay and vandalism. As of 2015 Historic England has been working with North Somerset Council on a phased project to bring the site into good condition and find a long term use for it that will benefit the local community.

SITE NAME: Birnbeck Pier, Weston-Super-Mare

Main pier which connects Birnbeck Island to the mainland below the Prince Consort Gardens. Dated 1862, opened 1867. Disused apart from the lifeboat station on the island. Negotiations ongoing between the Local Planning Authority, owner, Historic England and other interested parties about repair of pier and development of island. Trial repairs grant aided by Historic England in 2009-10 to help establish likely total repair costs.

SITE NAME: Church of St Michael, Church Road, Dundry

Church dominated by its very fine tower which is dated 1484, built in Dundry stone, by the Merchant Venturers of Bristol and is a notable landmark. Nave, north and south aisles, south porch, chancel, south chapel, north vestry, north organ chamber. Ashlar tower, snecked rubble elsewhere, freestone dressings, slate roofs. Damp problems. Plaster falls at east end of north and south aisles. Roof and slates in poor condition. An application for a Heritage Lottery Fund grant was made in summer 2015.

SITE NAME: St Mary's Church, Church Lane, Portbury

C12 parish church, altered and extended early C13 and C14/C15, and restored 1870-5. The stone slate roofs of the chancel, vestry and associated lean-to roofs have come to the end of their life. Water has been getting in causing ceiling plaster falls. A Heritage Lottery Fund Grant for Places of Worship funded scheme for the roof was completed in 2014 but further problems with the poor state of the sandstone wall especially on the south transept keeps the church at risk. The aisle wall has major structural voids and will be the subject of another Heritage Lottery Fund application in early 2016.

Hall built by John Foulston, 1823, in the Egyptian style. Part of a group with the Guildhall and Devonport Column. Egyptian columns flank a central, recessed porch. Currently used as a social club and in poor repair. Historic England grant-aided a feasibility study and emergency repairs to the roof, completed in 2007. It is understood the building has been acquired by a new owner, with whom Historic England and Plymouth City Council hope to meet in the near future.

Palmerston Fort built between 1863 and 1869. Partially occupied, as the parade ground is used for seasonal accommodation whilst buildings are vacant or used for storage. Buildings are suffering from benign neglect with heavy vegetation growth on the ramparts which may lead to water penetration and structural problems. No solution agreed as of 2015.

The Island incorporates numerous defences/military monuments from 1549 to C20. It was held for Parliament during the Civil War and used for defence purposes until 1958. All buildings and structures are in a derelict condition. A planning application for conversion to hotel use has been made and is supported in principle by Historic England. The application is likely to go before the Local Planning Authority planning committee in summer 2015.

Amphitheatre in grounds of Saltram House, Merafield Road, Plympton

Late C18 screen wall fronting rock-cut grottos overlooking the River Plym. Surrounding rock faces have become unstable and are subject to collapse. Repair of the amphitheatre has been identified as a key objective in a draft landscape masterplan for the Saltram area and funding has been secured for a feasibility study. The relationship between the amphitheatre and Boringdon Arch may be threatened by a proposal to construct a housing estate on the hillside beneath the arch.

Contact: Kim Auston 0117 975 0696

Boringdon Arch, Plymbridge Road, Plymouth

Designed by Robert Adam and built in 1783, it is believed the arch was built as a triumphal arch and eye-catcher to be viewed from Saltram House. The arch was advertised for sale in 2014, which included approximately two acres of associated woodland. There has been no further interest in the arch and it is unclear if the arch was successfully sold (2015).

Melville Building, Royal William Yard, Plymouth

The Melville building was constructed c1826 to 1932 as stores and offices for the Victualling Board to the design of Sir John Rennie Jnr, and forms part of the impressive Royal William Yard. Whilst the majority of the Yard has been successfully developed, with a combination of public and private finance, a sustainable future for the whole of Melville has yet to be implemented. Planning permission was granted in 2014 for the repair of Melville and conversion of most of the building for use as a hotel but work has not yet started.

Old Cooperage, Royal William Yard, Plymouth

The Cooperage was built c1826 to 1832 for the Victualling Board, to the design of Sir John Rennie Jnr and forms part of the impressive Royal William Yard. Whilst the majority of the Yard has been successfully developed, with a combination of public and private finance, a sustainable future for the whole of the Cooperage has yet to be secured. Permission was granted in 2013 to convert part of the building into artists’ studios. Historic England is grant aiding stone conservation works to the converted part due for completion in 2015. Uses for the rest of the building are under discussion.

Contact: Sarah Ball 0117 975 0666

Academy Theatre and Great Western Hotel (Palace Theatre), Union Street, Stonehouse, Plymouth

Former variety theatre and hotel, built 1898. A significant building in an area where major regeneration is underway. Historic England has offered grant aid in the past, which was not taken up. Temporary repairs were undertaken in 2013 and 2015 to make the theatre weather tight. Preventative maintenance has now restarted, but there is as yet no long-term strategy for the future of the building and it remains a significant concern.

Roof coverings, particularly the nave and inner slopes of north and south aisle, are desperately in need of renewal. Slates to these areas have previously been covered with bitumen-coated hessian and will not be reusable for repairs. Valley gutter also needs renewing. Interior suffers from condensation and poor ventilation. Gullies need clearing out. Downpipe to tower leaking or blocked. Some ivy growth to masonry. Buttresses need repointing. Excessive tree growth near north wall. Faculty granted 2011 for some re-roofing work to aisles.

The former church was constructed largely of red brick in 1904 by GAB Livesay in the free Byzantine style. It was completed by Professor ES Prior in partnership with Arthur Grove between 1913 and 1914 and the dome partially rebuilt in 1922-4 by Sidney Tugwell. Suffering extensively from the failure of guttering, drainage and roof maintenance, there has been substantial impact on the internal decoration and integrity of the brick work. The building is now being used for worship by a Greek Orthodox congregation.

DESIGNATION: Listed Building grade I
CONDITION: Poor
OCCUPANCY: Vacant/not in use
PRIORITY CATEGORY: C (C)

LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1175158

Gatehouse, c1500. Random local limestone rubble, plain tile roof. Two storeys, all window openings blocked apart from left side of ground floor. Arched entry slightly left of centre. Tudor arch doorway within passage. Rear has stone steps to first floor doorway on left side. Parish church rebuilt in the C15 with the tower dating from 1858. The building is generally very well maintained but the slated roofs now require complete recovering and new ceilings. The roofs are covered in asbestos cement slates with fibre board ceilings below. The slates are curling and annually require attention to deal with leaks, which have significantly disfigured the ceilings. The floors also need work.

DESIGNATION: Listed Place of Worship grade II*
CONDITION: Poor
PRIORITY CATEGORY: D (D)
OWNER TYPE: Religious organisation
LIST ENTRY NUMBER: 1345096

Parish church dating from the C15 much rebuilt in the C19. The nave north parapet has recently been secured, however there is a significant problem in the eastward parts of the building which have severe frost damage to limestone copings and string courses and further problems with poor walling stone and pointing. The north porch roof needs re-covering and some very significant boundary wall repairs are required. Interior decorations have been damaged by water ingress, now largely under control. A grant has been offered through the Roof Repair Fund 2015.

Church of St Giles, Church Walk, Leigh-on-Mendip

Medieval parish church c1350 rebuilt c1500. Well maintained. Iron cramps are pushing apart the joints in the parapet but as yet not splitting the stones. A programme of repairs addressing the external walling and parapets as well as repairs to the C18 roof coverings is needed. The nave roof boarding also needs some attention.

Church of St Andrew, Mells

Parish church. Predominantly late C15, tower of mid-C16, mid-C19 restoration. Doulting ashlar; low pitched roofs. Clerestoried nave with north and south aisles, continuing as chapels clasping the chancel and polygonal vestry of 1485. Important fixtures, fittings and furnishings. The church is generally very well maintained but the roofing materials are now coming to the end of their lives. The poor condition classification therefore relates to the roof only.

Church of St Matthew, High Street, Wookey

Parish church C15 predominantly with C13 chancel. The building is well maintained, however the nave and aisle roofs are improperly fixed and thus split and leak annually letting water into the C15 roof structure.

The church was mostly built in the late C14 and early C15 including the tower, in a Perpendicular style. Inside the tower at the height of the nave is a fine fan vault, unusual for a village church. The north aisle parapet and south aisle roof have been repaired with Historic England and Heritage Lottery Fund grant aid, with works completed in 2013. Further work to rainwater goods is due to proceed in 2015 with a grant from the Listed Places of Worship Roof Repair Fund. The tower stonework is also in need of some repair.

Large parish church in now small village, with chancel, nave, quire aisles and nave aisles, two storied south porch and western tower. Largely C14, lias with Ham stone dressings. The church was gutted by fire in 1878 and comprehensively restored in neo-medieval style. The aisle roofs leak every six months and are patched with sealant and flashband as they are now too fragile for more reliable repairs. Lias has problems in some places, notably the north parapet, north aisle vice turret and tower.

An C18 landscape park. Local preservation trusts have restored two important garden buildings, however other structures remain in poor condition. The main house was sold in 2014 and is currently undergoing repair. Repairs to the grade II listed Mrs Busby’s Temple, in the same ownership, were completed in 2014. The majority of the park is under intensive cultivation. The centrepiece of the design, Mill Wood, is largely denuded of trees and the structures within it are in a very poor state of repair. It changed hands in spring 2015 and has been reunited with the house.

The main house has gone and the stables and ancillary buildings are now in multiple ownership. An C18 Gothic gatehouse, The Towers, was repaired in 2012 and is no longer at risk, and sections of the park wall have been repaired with Natural England Higher Level Stewardship grant aid.

Country house c1720. A fire in 2011 caused serious damage to the roof structure and top floor. The building has now been scaffolded with a temporary roof structure while discussions on its repair continue. Four men were convicted of arson at Sandhill in February 2013. Planning permission has been granted for enabling development, which is now substantially complete - integral to this is a requirement to restore the house. An existing consent for conversion is in place. A revised application for the conversion of the main house and ancillary buildings is expected in 2015.

Early C14, with later medieval additions. Formerly believed to be remains of collegiate dwelling of chantry priests. A Historic England survey has shown that the ruins are part of an important manorial complex. Historic England funded emergency repairs were undertaken 2010, with more works undertaken 2011. Historic England funded a conservation plan and further works in 2013 and again in 2014. Ongoing talks between Historic England and the owner are positive and further jointly funded consolidation works are planned for 2015.

C19 gardens and pleasure grounds, surrounding a C19 mansion, together with parkland developed from the mid C18 and improved in the mid C19. St Audries has had a succession of institutional uses; derelict former school buildings remain in the walled garden. The parkland is mostly under cultivation and few parkland trees survive. St Audries house and gardens are in use as a wedding venue.

Redundant oratory, part of the demolished medieval Ilsham Manor. Neglected and in poor condition, when assessed in 2012 the chapel was not in use. By 2015 large holes in the roof coverings had opened up and the rainwater goods were missing causing significant water ingress. Currently, surrounded by a school but this is planned to close in July 2015 when the future of the site will be considered.

Cinema, licensed in 1912. An extremely well preserved example of an early purpose-built cinema. The building closed in 1999 and a trust is in discussion with the current owner about the purchase and re-use of the building.

C18 and C19 country house remodelled by G Wightwick c1840, with extensive ancillary buildings and fine Italianate garden. Altered after a fire in 1928. In use as a school from mid C20 to 2004. A charitable trust has acquired the House. Historic England has grant aided development work to the Italianate Garden in 2015, and the Trust is undertaking repairs to the building. Part of the building is now used for wedding ceremonies.

Gay’s Cave or Seat, circa 1734-38, with gateway and wrought iron gates, attributed to Henry Flitcroft, and situated on the axis of Amesbury Abbey and tumulus beyond the River Avon. Some of the shrubbery has been cleared; however, the diamond pattern paths are overgrown and unrecognisable. Saplings are growing on the masonry and loosening it. The vista between Amesbury Abbey and the cave has become obscured by vegetation.

A series of rooms contained within the worked-out chambers of a former Bath stone quarry, adapted to an underground government facility in the mid C20: Central Government War Headquarters. The site includes a telecommunications facility, and a number of rooms with plant and racking containing the associated equipment required for a telephone exchange. Unsatisfactory environmental conditions are causing a significant rate of decline to key features, notably the operator consoles.

Two aircraft hangars, built c1917 as part of a training centre. Two hangars from the first years of military flying. One hangar has been repaired, though there is no current end use. Consent has been granted to demolish the second hangar and this is currently in a collapsed state. A comprehensive application seeking to redevelop the whole site of the military buildings was submitted to Wiltshire Council in March 2014. This has been approved in 2015 subject to conditions.
